Introduction

Erin is a member of the business practice group, specializing in trademark registration and protection as well as intellectual property transactions. For over 20 years, Erin has assisted her clients with the full spectrum of their trademark needs from state and federal to international trademark registration and maintenance. She advises her clients on the analysis of trademark-related matters, issues of similarity, and superior trademark rights. Erin is adept at working with clients spanning all sizes and industries and empowers them to make decisions to progress their business goals. She also counsels clients on intellectual property transactions, including drafting and negotiating software development, licensing, bundling and distribution agreements, asset purchase and sale agreements, stock purchase and sale agreements, and trademark registration and protection.
