Introduction

With responsibility for information technology systems, Stu implements and maintains the infrastructure critical to the smooth operation of our firm. He evaluates, pilots and implements the new technology demanded by our attorneys and staff members to provide the accuracy and quick turnaround needed by our clients. He is also responsible for developing technology business policies, such as electronic evidence, digital encryption and signature, and process improvements. When called upon to assist our attorneys and their clients with technological problems or interests, Stu enjoys the opportunity to share his expertise in the legal arena.
